Criteria Amsterdam Movement Sciences Outstanding Paper Award 2020

The Annual AMS Outstanding Paper Award will be presented to a MA student or AMS member PhD candidate at the 4th Annual AMS Research Meeting to be held on March 13, 2020, for the most outstanding paper published in the past year. The award consists of a certificate and €1.000 to cover travel costs or attendance to an international scientific meeting of choice. The applicant must submit a PDF of the article in question.

Criteria:

- Outstanding paper in its field;
- First authorship (by applicant MA student or AMS member PhD candidate) of peer-reviewed article published (online journal, on paper, or alt. e-pub ahead of print) during the period 1st January 2019 – 31st December 2019\(^1\);
- The candidate should preferably be present at the meeting, or alternatively be represented by a co-author and AMS member;
- All authors must agree with the submission.

Review:

The papers will be judged by a selection of independent AMS members. The jury’s decision is final. The jury will inform the AMS MT of its decision.

Note: the jury will make their judgment based on the following principles:

- Scientific quality;
- The article’s innovative and relevant contribution to Amsterdam Movement Sciences;
- Societal relevance.

Please upload your application via the link to be found on the AMS website before the final deadline for application of February 1, 2020. The shortlisted candidates (or their representative) will be asked to give a short presentation of the paper at the meeting.

\(^1\) The candidate must provide the article’s exact volume, issue and page numbers OR in case of a publication in an online journal: the volume and issue number and article number. The paper can only be submitted once (print or online version).
